H-Bomb Testing To Be Continued, President Says

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower says the huge 1952 atomic blast in the Pacific was "the first full scale thermonuclear explosion in history... the first step in the hydrogen weapon program of the United States."

His statement to Congress Tuesday was the first official claim that the United States got the jump on Russia with a full-scale hydrogen explosion, Moscow, announcing a hydrogen explosion last summer, said then the United States no longer had a monopoly in the field.

Island Wiped Out
Unofficial letters from the Eniwetok test site in the fall of 1952 described the big blast as wiping out an island.

"These improvements will be continued—in the hope that our weapons will deter war, and in the determination that we shall be able to retaliate immediately, with crushing force, if war should come," Eisenhower said.

Secretary of Defense Wilson, meanwhile, told a news conference he does not regard Russian talk of its atomic strength as just bluff, and he added: "I personally wish we could quit rattling the atomic bomb."

Depends On Russia

He said if Russia should agree to atomic disarmament, the United States would have to take a "second new look" at its military program, which places emphasis on air power and new weapons, including atomic ones.

Asked if in another Korea-type war this country would limit itself to the use of conventional weapons, Wilson replied:

"I think it would be hard to determine the reason why you shouldn't use a gun that shoots a hundred times more powerful than another gun."

Gov. Williams Wages Feud With Ziegler; Investigation Urged

LANSING (P)—A new feud between Gov. Williams and State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler today brought demands for a legislative investigation of the Highway Department.

The investigation was urged by Rep. Emil R. Peltz (R-Rogers City), an old friend of the Highway Department. His resolution was sent to committee for study.

No Whitewash

Williams said he would welcome the investigation if the probe was both Republican and Democratic so that there would be "no whitewash."

Peltz said an investigation was needed to "clear the air" and to determine whether the people were getting their money's worth in highway building.

Budget Boosted For McCarthy

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), defending the record of the Senate investigations subcommittee he heads, has been granted the full amount of money he asked for another year's work.

Some Democrats had been talking of moves to trim the subcommittee's budget, or to restrict its scope of operations, but no formal steps were taken in that direction as the Senate voted Tuesday to allow the group $214,443 to conduct its operations in the coming year. In the past year, the budget was $200,000.

The vote was 85-1, with only Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) opposing it.

Sen. Ellender (D-La), who finally voted for the resolution, questioned McCarthy at length as to whether the subcommittee was not duplicating the work of other groups and reshaping old material. McCarthy defended the subcommittee record on both points.

Action Held Up On NLRB Choice

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON (P)—The nomination of Albert C. Beeson to the National Labor Relations Board faced indefinite delay today as the Senate Labor Committee called for full information on his pension rights with a San Jose, Calif., firm. The committee, after questioning Beeson for six hours, voted 5-3 Tuesday night to defer Senate action on his nomination by President Eisenhower until it could question Paul H. Davies, president of the Food Machinery & Chemical Corp., or some other official of the firm. The committee also wants to examine company records bearing on the Beeson pension situation.

Beeson, whose confirmation was recommended by the committee last week on a 7-6 party line vote, is former industrial relations vice president of that company. Committee Democrats have opposed his nomination, contending he is a "company man" and thus could not approach his NLRB duties impartially.

Beeson has pledged, that he would be unbiased.

The new feud between Williams, a Democrat, and Ziegler, a Republican, arose over the governor's recent charge that Ziegler was not using all the federal aid funds available to Michigan for highway construction.

Ziegler, cross-examined by Williams, said he has "committed" or "programmed" $6 million of $16 million available to the state before July 1, 1954.

Funds Held Back

Williams tried to get Ziegler to say he would commit all the rest of it by July 1, but Ziegler would say only that he "hoped" to do so.

The administrative board voted confidence in Ziegler, but several Republican members pulled the teeth of the endorsement a little by expressing hope Ziegler would act promptly to program the remaining $10 million.

Ziegler argued the state cannot commit all its money to federal projects because no funds would be left for projects which cannot obtain federal aid.

Williams contended that Ziegler can get "twice as much" road building done by matching state funds with federal cash.

Wolf Boy Of India Taken To Hospital, Snarls At Doctors

NEW DELHI, India (P)—A gaunt, snarling lad dubbed the "wolf boy" is providing medical authorities in Lucknow the twin problems of keeping him alive and determining his background.

The doctors said today the boy, who walks on all fours, winks down raw meat and laps water like an animal, is 9 years old. With his hair long and matted, he was found mysteriously in a railway freight car Jan. 17. Though definitely a human, doctors conjecture that he was reared by animals.

Likes Raw Meat

The boy was removed to the Balmbar Hospital in Lucknow, in north-central India, where symptoms of a serious circulatory ailment were noted.

Much against his will, he is being fed cooked meat, milk, porridge, fruit juices and pancakes, as well as the raw meat he likes. Despite more than two weeks of hospital care, however, he still lies huddled weakly in his bed, giving an occasional snarl and trying to bite attendants. He cringes from light. He shows little interest in his surrounding until raw meat is produced. This he devours avidly.

The hospital superintendent, Dr. D. N. Sharma, said massage will be used in an effort to restore the boy to normal human shape.

"He has serious contracture of the muscles of the limbs and flexion at both elbow and knee joints," Dr. Sharma said.

Never Walked On Feet

Surgical reconstruction to enable him to walk upright is planned after the massage treatments build up his physical strength.

Dr. Sharma said the boy's jungle childhood is evident from a double set of upper jaw incisors, used to gnaw bones, his clawlike hands with ingrowing nails, and pressure scars on his knees from walking on all fours.

"His knees have developed bursitis," Dr. Sharma told newsmen. "The soles of his feet show he never walked. Numerous scars are visible all over his body."

Use of the massage treatment stems from India's sketchy history of perhaps 40 children labeled as reared by animals. The "wolf girls of Midnapore," Kamala and Amala, were reported to have attained the full use of their legs through massage. A New Delhi newspaper, The Statesman, related that those girls were rescued from a wolf's den in 1942 by an Indian Christian, the Rev. J. A. L. Singh, and sheltered at his orphanage.

Lucknow legends tell not only of wolf boys but also of children reared by leopards and bears in the jungles southeast of that city.

Income Tax Cut Demands Called Inflation Threat

By CHARLES F. BARRETT
WASHINGTON (P)—Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.) said today Democratic demands for a big new individual income tax cut could lead to disastrous inflation and "hurt the very people they say they want to help."

Wolcott, chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, thus jumped into a verbal battle between the Eisenhower administration and some congressional Democrats over who should get direct tax relief to offset a slight dip in the national economy.

Relief For Consumer

Democratic Senators Douglas of Illinois and Fulbright of Arkansas tangled with Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey on the issue Tuesday as the Economic Committee opened weeks of hearings on President Eisenhower's economic report.

Douglas and Fulbright argued that Eisenhower's tax policy is weighted heavily in favor of more incentives to business. Actually, they said, the biggest problem is shoring up the purchasing power of consumers.

They suggested an increase in personal income tax exemptions would be the best way to assure prosperity. A $100 increase in individual exemptions would save taxpayers about 2½ billion dollars a year.

Payrolls Come First

Humphrey insisted the administration program of about $6,250,000,000 in tax cuts this year is about equally balanced between direct tax cuts for individuals and incentives for business expansion "to produce more and better jobs."

"More tax cuts from the pay-check will be of little value if there is no job to make the pay-check in the first place," Humphrey said. "If you haven't got payrolls you haven't got consumers."

Wolcott said in an interview the problem is to keep a balance between expanding production and expanding purchasing power. He said he thinks the administration program does just that.

Michigan Highway Speed Limit Bill Revived In Lansing

LANSING (P)—Fair employment practices legislation appeared dead but highway speed limits were back from the grave in the House today.

Rep. Eugene C. Betz (R-Monroe), chairman of the State Affairs Committee, reported that his group in closed session had tabled the measure forbidding racial discrimination in employment. He did not announce the vote.

Immediately, Rep. Ed Carey (D-Detroit), minority leader, said he would ask for a record roll call vote today (2 p.m.) on a motion to discharge the committee from further consideration of the measure.

Won't Accept Defeat

This tactic has been tried unsuccessfully for several successive years.

Gov. Williams, long an advocate of FEPC legislation, said the development will not be accepted by the Democrats "as final defeat."

He commended Rep. Louis C. Cramton (R-Lapeer), the bill's sponsor, for his efforts "to fill an obvious gap in Michigan laws."

The highway speed bill was reported without recommendation by the Public Safety Committee, Chairman Clyde E. Cooper (R-White Cloud) had announced last week that the committee had followed recommendations of the State Safety Seminar and killed the measure.

He reported the bill would set the day-time speed limit on high-

Bill Revamps 1953 Business Receipts Levy

LANSING (P)—The Senate has voted to revamp the 1953 business receipts tax—but not enough to affect most taxpayers.

The chamber approved and sent to the House a measure which would tighten definitions in last year's law, plug some loopholes, and give legal standing to decisions of the State Revenue Department for administering the tax.

In addition, the deadline for the annual return was advanced from Jan. 1 to March 1.

Oil and gas, pipelines were brought under the tax. Rural electrification associations were placed in the same category as other public utilities, allowing them a reduced tax rate. Seasonal businesses were permitted to file only an annual return.

A group of Republican senators, headed by Sens. James M. Teague (R-Owosso), and Creighton R. (R-Battle Creek) sponsored a bill which they said would make Michigan's workmen's compensation act "the finest in the nation."

It would increase benefits $4 a week. The minimum benefit now is $28 and the maximum $42.

Vatican Reports Pope Improving

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (P)—The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano, in evident effort to allay growing concern over the health of Pope Pius XII said today that "the state of the Supreme Pontiff, thanks to God, continues to improve."

The newspaper also described as "absolutely unfounded" reports in the Italian press that an English specialist who attended the late King George VI of Britain had been called for consultation.

This report, printed in both Il Messaggero and Il Tempo of Rome, conservative newspapers, had heightened worry in Vatican circles that the Pontiff may be suffering from cancer.

King George died of a thrombosis in 1952 after he had been operated upon for cancer of the lung.

Kremlin Agent Helps To Crack Ring In Tokyo

By ROBERT PROSSER
TOKYO (P)—A trustworthy American military source said today a Russian diplomat - spy reported missing last week is revealing secrets of a Red spy ring in Japan to U. S. intelligence agents on Okinawa.

The source, who cannot be identified, said inside secrets from the "highly efficient agent" are helping crack the spy ring.

Fears For His Life

The diplomat, Yuri Alexandrovich Rastvorov, apparently fled in terror from the defunct Russian mission in Tokyo, the source said, after helping "set up a spy network that has already penetrated some of the highest levels of the Japanese government."

"Rastvorov left out of fear for his life," the source said. "The claim of the Russian mission that he was kidnapped by the Americans is ridiculous."

Rastvorov disappeared Jan. 24. The American source said he fled after being ordered back to Moscow because he apparently was found "softening" toward Americans.

The source said a Russian intelligence agent accompanying a Russian ice-skating team here in January brought orders for Rastvorov to return home.

Secret Police Officer

The source also said two other Russian agents in Tokyo—both friends of Rastvorov—wanted to give themselves over to the Americans, but are being sent home guarded by five other Russians.

The American source said Rastvorov is believed to be a lieutenant colonel in the MVD (secret police). Such a rank would make him a key figure in a spy ring here.

There has been no official American comment on the case here or in Washington, other than denials that Rastvorov's whereabouts are known.

Winning Rastvorov away from the Soviets could be one of the greatest American Army intelligence exploits since the end of World War II.

A man of his rank would probably be able to name every important Communist spy in Japan and also provide clues for the missing leaders of the Japanese Communist party, who went underground about four years ago.

Won't Change A Word

Eisenhower declared emphatically that he will not compromise one bit—one single word—in any way which would alter the traditional balance of power between the three branches of government—executive, legislative and judicial.

Eisenhower declined specific comment on various proposals put before the Senate as possible substitutes for the plan by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio).

The President said, however, that this is a very, very intricate question which should be studied soberly and on a non-partisan basis to determine what is good for the United States in the long run.

Senate Split Over Treaty Amendment; 4 Back Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower said today he will uncompromisingly oppose any attempt to change the traditional balance of power among the branches of the federal government.

The President's general comment at a news conference came as the Senate headed toward showdown votes on the Bricker constitutional amendment on treaty powers.

Eisenhower declined specific comment on various proposals put before the Senate as possible substitutes for the plan by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio).

Western Envoys Try To Salvage Part Of Big 4 Conference

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

BERLIN (P)—A new Soviet attack on the West's plans for a European army embroiled the Big Four conference today in another session of words.

Russia's V. M. Molotov, opening the foreign ministers' ninth meeting in Berlin, loosed a tirade at the West for espousing a Germany that would be a partner in a European defense community.

Moscow Dreads Army

Molotov declared the United States and Britain are "the midwives of the European army"—an army Moscow appears to dread even though it would be purely defensive in character.

This was Molotov's day to make another try at imposing the Soviet idea of a united Germany, an effort he must know by now is useless. He had contrived a plan for "free elections" and presumably laid it before the conference, without much hope of it accomplishing anything more than a bit of home front propaganda behind the Iron Curtain.

Before today's session the Western foreign ministers conferred at length.

Air Giant Makes Maiden Flight

LONG BEACH, Calif. (P)—Douglas Aircraft Co. announced today that a giant troop carrying plane—a combination propeller and jet driven transport—has completed its maiden flight successfully.

The company said the 200-passenger air giant is powered by four turbo-prop engines. This engine is a gas turbine which spins a conventional propeller and also delivers some jet thrust. Douglas said the distribution of power is approximately 80 per cent propeller and 20 per cent jet.

The company said the plane was built to carry troops, general cargo and heavy field and air force equipment.

Annual Report Given By Police Department

The annual report of the Escanaba Police Department shows that during the year of 1953, the department made 2684 investigations and reports which were non-criminal in nature, compared with 1285 criminal reports.

These reports included 54 lost person reports, 57 lost animals and 69 reports of lost property. There were 20 public accidents, 51 dog bites and 12 instances where officers rendered aid or transportation to sick persons. Officers made 80 money escorts. 198 bank deposit escorts, attended 155 fires, escorted 159 funerals, delivered 160 official letters and guarded 105 mail transfers. They also made property checks on 178 private homes at the request of the owners when they left town, rendered assistance outside of the line of duty in 109 cases, investigated 183 miscellaneous animal complaints and destroyed 114 animals at the request of the owners.

Routine duties included the recovery of 15 stolen automobiles and 170 bicycles. Officers also recovered stolen property valued at $3,487. The total value of property stolen in Escanaba during 1953, excluding stolen automobiles, was approximately $6,573.

Station personnel took 194 sets of fingerprints, issued 2290 operators' licenses, 537 bicycle licenses, inspected taxis 13 times and answered over 15,000 phone calls. Besides the police phones, desk officers furnish after-hour call services for the electric utilities department and for the utilities service departments. Officers at the station also are on continual watch for alarms from the three banks, the Liquor Control Commission and a gas leak alarm for the propane plant, all of which alarms are terminated at the police station. The desk officers also act as radio operators.

The department has four three-way mobile radio units and also acts as the control station for two fire department three-way mobile units and one service department three-way mobile unit. Aside from handling all calls on their frequency, the department also has radio contact with the Michigan State Police, the Menominee County Sheriff Department and the Marinette County Sheriff Department. They also served 154 meals to the prisoners.

In June of 1950 when Safety Director Glen Leonard assumed duties, the department had 16 men working a 48 hour week, with two special officers hired during vacations to maintain the manpower. Since that time, the number of employees, including a clerk, has been raised to 20. Special officers are no longer hired because of the need for well trained men so there are no replacements during the vacation weeks.

The directors of the Escanaba National Bank yesterday reelected all officers for the ensuing year. They are Juel Lee, president; Stack Smith, vice president; W. J. Schmit, executive vice president; E. L. Moersch, cashier; William Leiper and W. J. Lavolette, assistant cashiers.

The following daily events are proposed:

1. "Then and Now" window displays in all business establishments. Exhibits of products sold by business houses in 1855.
2. Water show: Water ski events — two or three shows daily.
3. Centennial midway and carnival, in both Saults.
4. Marine exhibits, in both Saults.
5. Guided tours of museum.
6. Guided tours of Locks.
7. The possibility of a non-permanent exposition building.

The plan calls for the opening of the Centennial by the governor, and a visit by President Dwight D. Eisenhower, by the Prime Minister of Canada, and the dedication of the MacArthur Lock by General of the Armies Douglas MacArthur, for whom the lock is named.

The central event will be "The Soo Centurama," an outdoor theatrical production which will be presented nightly, Friday through Tuesday of each week. This historical-spectacle will portray the dramatic highlights of the history of the two Saults and the Locks. It will be professionally produced on a special outdoor stage, with six separate casts of 350 persons, one for each week. The 90-minute performance will be climaxed each night by a fireworks finale.

7:30 p. m. The 15th street entrance to the school will be used

UP Sanitarians Elect Officers

Upper Peninsula county sanitarians, attending the sessions of the Upper Michigan health conference here Monday and Tuesday, met in separate session at the Webster Annex, headquarters of the Delta County Health department, Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. J. K. Altland, of the Michigan Department of Health, addressed the group on the subject of infectious hepatitis, its control and means to be used to eradicate it.

George Rouman, of Manistique, sanitarian for Alger and Schoolcraft, also discussed the subject and touched on the problem that had arisen in the Germfask area where this infection had for a time posed a very serious problem.

Action was also taken to obtain certification of local health departments in Upper Michigan and thus eliminate duplication of effort in handling of such matters as milk inspection.

Officers were elected with the following results: Howard Lightfoot, Sault Ste. Marie, president; Don Pattison, Ontonagon, vice president; John Bacherach, Menominee, secretary-treasurer.

Importance Of History Emphasized At Meeting

Mrs. Curran P. Boyer, president of the Michigan State Historical Society and executive secretary of the Detroit Historical Society, spoke on public relations in history at the annual dinner meeting of the Delta County Historical Society last night. The meeting, held at the Delta Hotel, was attended by 50 people.

Mrs. Boyer's subject, "The Growing Concept of the American Heritage," described history as of national importance in dealing with the question of "where is our country going." An understanding of the history of our country will give our young people a direction for the future, she said.

"We can't tell where we are going unless we know where we have been."

In conjunction with her work in selling history, Mrs. Boyer described the projects undertaken by the Detroit Historical Society. This society is the largest organization of its kind in the U. S. and possibly in the world with 3,600 members.

Historical Museum

This society has built an historical museum through donations by wealthy persons who believe in the value of making history available to everyone and by the promotion of individual donations.

The Detroit Historical Society maintains its historical exhibits through individual memberships and "corporate giving." The latter consists of yearly pledges made through the Detroit Business Founder's Memberships limited to business firms which were established at least 25 years ago. The society believes, Mrs. Boyer said, that these business have a stake in their town. In return for their financial assistance, the Detroit Historical Society provides a cultural organization that can reach the schools and the public. This is done in part through historical film strips and moveable exhibits.

Some of the ideas used by the Detroit Historical Society to sell history to its people might well be used by any community, Mrs. Boyer stated. It is necessary to catch the attention of people who are sincerely interested in history, however. Exhibits which may be placed in easily accessible places and which are of a temporary nature are more interesting than those which are static. Such exhibits might be on folklore, documents, costumes, etc.

Officers Elected

Junior historical societies in Detroit have encouraged young people of school age to delve into that city's historic lore. These junior societies are established in the schools through joint cooperation of the social science teachers and the Detroit Historical Society.

Mrs. Carol Paul of Marquette, in a preliminary talk, requested information on Charles T. Harvey and any possible connection he might have had in designing the ore docks at Escanaba. He is known to have been a designer of note and was at one time associated with Samuel J. Tilden. However, as a result of a personal feud, the two became bitter rivals and Harvey's name has been stricken from much existing data.

A. T. Sohlberg of Gladstone presided at the business meeting. The following officers and board members were elected for the coming year: President, Charles Folio; Vice President, William Anderson; Secretary, Mrs. Murray Cole; Treasurer, George Embs; Directors: Mrs. Cheldon Cobb, Stonington; Miss Adele Elliott, Sae Bay; Alfred Groos, Groos; Dave Coon, Escanaba; A. T. Sohlberg, Gladstone; Mrs. George Jensen, Escanaba; Mrs. Claude Hawkins, Gladstone; Arvid Mustonen, Rock; Paul Rademacher, Escanaba; Clint Dunathan, Escanaba.

The following committee reports were heard: Secretary, Mrs. Frank Bender Jr.; Treasurer, George Embs; Collections Committee, Frank Bender Jr.; Fair Exhibit, William Anderson, and State and Regional Meetings, Charles Folio.

Research Work In Mink Explained At Ford River Meeting

Arnold Mulhern, executive secretary of the National Board of Fur Farm Organizations, was the guest of the Upper Michigan Mink Breeders Association at its regular meeting last night at the Ford River Town Hall.

Mulhern explained the organization and objectives of the national board which is the parent organization of all fur organizations. Its membership at the present time represents 39 associations throughout the United States.

On a national scale the national board speaks for the 5,000 mink ranchers in the U. S. It furnishes statistical data for any organization or institution desiring information on the fur industry.

The research fund which benefits all the ranchers of the country was established through the efforts of the national board. This research is carried on at the state level at colleges and universities through subsidies by the mink industry.

Fifty-five mink ranchers were present for the program. Three new members were accepted into membership: Bernard Knutson and Clement Grabowski of Niagara, Wis. and Ronald Knight of Cedarburg, Wis. There are at the present time 60 active members.

Warrant Issued Against Gannon

IRON MOUNTAIN—Prosecutor John V. Zanardi today issued a warrant for the arrest of Robert M. Gannon, 37, of Alpha, former Escanaba resident, for negligent homicide in the fatal injury of a four and a half-month-old infant in an automobile collision two miles east of Loretto on Sunday, Jan. 17.

The warrant was to be served Tuesday afternoon by Cpl. Joseph Godlewski, of the state police, who investigated the accident. According to Prosecutor Zanardi, Gannon may be arraigned here Wednesday in municipal court.

Gannon was the driver of the car which collided with a car driven by Mrs. Merlin Roosen, of Kingsford. Her infant daughter, Mary Elizabeth, died four hours later at the Penn hospital in Norway, Mrs. Roosen and her husband, 21, also were injured.

The entire Gannon family, husband, wife and six children, were treated at the Memorial Hospital for injuries.

According to Prosecutor Zanardi, Cpl. Godlewski's investigation at the scene of the accident and questioning of eye-witnesses revealed that Gannon was driving on the wrong side of the road when the cars collided.

Turkey Is A Genuine Friend And Deserves More U.S. Aid

WITHOUT much fanfare, President Celal Bayar of Turkey has come to the United States. He deserves the very warmest of welcomes as the leader of one of the world's staunchest free countries.

We don't hear too much about what goes on in Turkey, but the story is quite remarkable. For one thing, the Turks have no serious internal Communist threat. They have a tough army that even the Russians are believed to fear. They are one of the most reliable links in the chain of defense embraced by the North Atlantic Treaty from the Middle East to Scandinavia.

The Turks were first to volunteer military aid in the Korean war and their soldiers fought the Communists with fierce abandon. Now they are energetically trying to arrange a pact with Greece and Yugoslavia (not a NATO member) on the west, and another with Pakistan and possibly Iraq for the defense of the eastern lands.

Internally, Turkey has given the world a notable lesson in the evolution of a once corrupt and rotting nation toward healthy, industrious democracy. Turkey became a republic in 1923. For long years its first president, Mustafa Kemal Ataturk, served as a benevolent dictator. He devoted himself intensely to the modernization of his country.

After Ataturk's death, and without a further revolution, the succeeding president, who might also have maintained himself as a dictator, called for regular popular elections. The ruling regime abided by the results, and democracy has been flourishing ever since. In world history there are all too few examples of dictators voluntarily relinquishing their scepters.

In 1950, after more than 27 years' rule by the People's Party, the Democrats under Bayar won a landslide victory. Bayar has proceeded to give more support than his predecessors for private enterprise, and under his rule Turkish national output has climbed 40 per cent.

President Bayar is not here, of course, just for handshakes. Undoubtedly he will press upon President Eisenhower and American diplomats Turkey's view that it needs double the aid it is now getting from us. Without it, the Turks may have difficulty maintaining the 22 divisions and four jet fighter groups with which they now defend the free world's southern arc.

Congress is in a belt-tightening mood toward foreign aid, both economic and military. But if it wants to reward a real friend and fighting ally—the kind it says it always is looking for—this is the chance.

RATIONING IN BRITAIN SETS ENDURANCE RECORD

(Duluth News-Tribune)

Britain will de-ration butter, cheese, margarine and cooking fats May 8, the government has announced. That will leave only meat and bacon on the ration. Earlier the authorities said they planned to end all rationing some time during the summer of 1954. No more ration books are being printed.

This looks like the end of one of the most prolonged food control programs ever attempted by a Western government.

Rationing of bacon and ham, butter and sugar began Jan. 8, 1940, the first winter of the war, before the fall of France and the Low Countries. Meat rationing started March 11, 1940. Bread, ration-free all during the war, was added to the list of rationed foods for a time, beginning in 1946.

Sympathy, admiration and anger all should have a place in the American view of such a record. There is no way to express the misery, waste of time and energy and disappointment in fourteen long years under such a system.

We have to admire the patience of the people and the ingenuity of a system which met many changes and made a pitifully small amount of some foods go a long, long way. But any imaginative person will feel a surge of anger that a civilized society, in eight years and more of peace, has been unable to solve its own food problem completely.

Food-producing countries are beginning to worry about surpluses. Several nations with industrious, productive people should be eating more, and consuming better food. Men with vision and courage ought to be able to work a miracle in this matter, without using any more than normal human intelligence.

Bandits stole an auto from a used car lot in a Michigan town. There's a touch of humor in police saying they won't get far.

Marry for real love, advises a preacher. And may we add, you'll probably never do it again!

The Doctor Says ... Some Parents' Questions Reflect Unnecessary Worry

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Uncertainty as to whether a tragedy is questionable that the child would be could have been prevented by different be-damaged by breathing second-hand tobacco. Certainly causes a great deal of mental suffering. As an example of this, another correspondent writes that her one mother wrote that she and her husband-three-year-old daughter has such a good band suffered the heartbreak of losing appetite and seems to be gaining so much baby girl two days after birth.

The cause of the child's death was said to be put on a diet. She also asks to be heart disease, and the mother wanted whether soda pop and ice cream are fattening to know whether the father's drinking is.

To this it can be said that while there are fattening, and scarcely constitute a good other undesirable effects from excessive diet for a three-year-old child, except overdrinking, it is not thought a cause of heart disease. As to whether the child should be put on a diet or not, that depends on the child's condition.

Another question which comes from Mrs. and height. If she is, the pediatrician can A. has to do with the effect of cigarette readily tell the mother how she should be smoke on a two-year-old child. The lady, evidently does not approve of her neighbor. She says the neighbor smokes one or two packs of cigarettes a day, and her apart-six-month-old baby who cries himself to ment just reeks of this foul cigarette smoke sleep every night, crying for a half hour at her child, since the day she was born, has a time.

It is not considered desirable to let a cording to Mrs. A.) looks pale and eats little small baby cry too long since there is some a bird. The mother, she says, spends 95 per cent in danger of rupture, and general-cent of her time smoking and watching while speaking, a small child who cries too much is uncomfortable in some way. On television.

First, it seems to me that much as she may the other hand, even small babies like to disapprove, it is not Mrs. A.'s business. Attention and try to get away with things. If to the health hazards, it can only be said they find they can get picked up by crying, that in the light of present knowledge, it they may develop this habit.

Merry-Go-Round

By DEW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Though the nation's business is everyone's business, the testimony now being given before the joint congressional committee on the economic report is in secret. A parade of economists, official and unofficial, beginning with the President's top economic adviser, Dr. Arthur Burns, is trying to spell out what's behind the current recession.

Though they haven't said it in these exact words, many of the economists agree that the basic reason boils down to this: When you take thirty billions in defense orders out of the economy, you have to replace it with something else.

Spelled out in more detailed terms, the 1952 budget called for $60,000,000,000 of new defense equipment. The 1953 budget calls for $30,900,000,000. This is basic hardware. This represents millions of dollars worth of steel, copper, aluminum, and all labor that goes with it.

And when you take that big a chunk out of government orders, you have to replace it with schools, housing, bridges, roads, or something else. Otherwise the economy is bound to slump.

ADVISERS WARNED IKE

Inside fact is that Dr. Burns has been giving private warnings for some time that business was slipping. Burns is the ex-Columbia professor, born in Austria, who was named chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers last spring after the White House at first said Ike didn't need any economic advisers.

The President, however, was reminded that it was up to congress, not him, to decide whether he needed economic advisers, and that congress required him, by law, to have three advisers for the purpose of helping him head off depression.

Ike thereupon acquiesced, appointed Dr. Burns, but didn't get around to appointing the other two economists required by law until late last summer.

Now the Council is working overtime. They do not agree with Ray Henle, contributor for the big Republican contributor Joe Pew and the Sun Oil Company that to warn of a business recession is Communist propaganda. On the contrary, they believe that to head off recession you have to examine the economic factors carefully, as they did in Ike's own economic message to congress. Furthermore they do not agree with some of the hucksters immediately around the President that the way to prevent a recession is to repeat over and over again: "We cannot have a recession."

The present recession is probably nothing to worry about provided it isn't permitted to go any deeper. The best way to prevent it, they suggest privately, is to make sure that the axing of government spending is not too sudden and to replace defense spending with at least some peacetime spending.

UNBREAKABLE RUSSIAN CODE

One interesting thing Igor Gouzenko told me during my visits with him in Canada was that the secret Russian code is unbreakable.

This, he explained, is because a virtually different code is used for almost every sentence. This was also why the Russian embassy in Canada was completely brazen about sending the atomic secrets they stole in North America and even the names of some of their spies back to Moscow by cable.

Ability to break the secret code of a foreign nation, especially in wartime, is the next best thing to having a well-trained Army and Navy. And on at least one occasion, the secret code of the United States may have been stolen by the Soviet.

This was when the two British diplomats, McLean and Burgess, suddenly disappeared behind the iron curtain, taking with them various secrets of British-American diplomacy. While they had no access to the American code, they did have decoded copies of American diplomatic documents, which when matched with coded copies picked off the airwaves, might have led to breaking our code. That was why 50 couriers were immediately sent from Washington carrying a new code to 50 different embassies abroad immediately after McLean and Burgess slipped behind the iron curtain.

During the war the United States broke the Japanese secret code almost at will. This was what led to American victory in the Battle of Midway, where the U. S. Navy, intercepting a Japanese message, learned that its fleet was converging near Midway for an all-out attack on the United States. Almost the entire U. S. fleet in the Pacific was immediately rushed to Midway, resulting in a victory which crippled the Japanese fleet for keeps.

Questions and Answers

Q—How big will the federal deficit be at the end of the current fiscal year?

A—Fiscal 1954, ending June 30, 1954, will show a deficit of approximately $3.8 billion according to the latest official estimate on Aug. 27. Between now and June 30, however, the deficit, and consequently the public debt, will fluctuate daily. On Dec. 1, for example, the deficit stood at about $8.9 billion.

Dawson Gets Fish And Chips; Starts Piscatorial Price War

By TOM CULLEN

NEA Special Correspondent

LONDON (NEA) — Millionaire George Dawson denies that he started the Korean War, even though he cleaned up a fortune on it. But he proudly admits that he started a war that everyone enjoys—a price war in the fish industry.

It is Dawson, single-handed, vs. the Fish Monopoly of Britain. It's being fought with fish—and also with check-book and fountain pen, for Dawson is using his personal fortune to defy a two-year-old ban on fish imported from Iceland. The ban was imposed by British trawler owners in 1951 when they were excluded from 5000 square miles of Icelandic fishing grounds.

This week, as Dawson landed his first boatload of cod from Iceland, he was hailed as a national hero. British housewives made him their pin-up boy, as he showered them with free fish.

The roly-poly, five-foot, 44-year-old cockney has not always been the darling of the British public. At one time he was wanted for questioning by Scotland Yard, the French Surete and the U. S. House of Representatives. American Congressmen accused him of making a $100,000,000 profit on the re-sale of American war surplus goods.

Nor has he always enjoyed basking in a sunlight of publicity. Like Harry Lime of "The Third Man," fame, Dawson has preferred the shadowy enclaves of Vienna, Hamburg and Antwerp, slithering out of reach of the law at the twang of a tither.

With his sausage legs tucked beneath a Louis XIV desk at No. 35 Berkeley Square, Dawson admitted that it is the first office he has ever owned.

"All my life I've made my deals in bars," he says candidly. Starting at the age of 12, when he rented out his bicycle, Dawson has made—and some say, lost—two fortunes. He's now starting on his third.

Fortune No. 1: By buying up broken-down trucks in junk yards and fitting the useful parts together, he was able to sell complete machines, himself acquired a fleet of trucks. At the age of 30 he owned a Rolls-Royce, a Bentley and his own airplane.

Fortune No. 2: Dawson got into the scrap business after the war by buying up a lot of self-sealing aircraft tanks. He split the tanks open, ripped out their rubber linings and sold the rubber as scrap.

In Norway he bought an entire surplus depot, including a fully-equipped hospital, which he turned back to the Norwegians.

Later he bought up vehicles sold by the Americans to a German company and sold them back to the Americans at a fancy price. The Korean War had rocketed their value.

As to Fortune No. 3, the fishing business, Dawson is keeping his fingers crossed. "I may not make as much out of fish as I did out of surplus, but I'll make enough," he says.

Meanwhile, in his price war to undersell British producers, Dawson is losing money on his Icelandic cod. He is building his own $300,000 processing plant at Grimsby, setting up his own sales organization, will quick-freeze some of the fish to sell abroad.

"If the trawler owners try to stop me," he warns, "I'll fly the fish in from Iceland."

Dawson has gone into the Icelandic fishing business pretty thoroughly. He is making a first-hand study of the best white wines to drink with fish, compiling a personal cookery-book of fish recipes, and planning an exhibition of Icelandic art in London.

As a cockney, Dawson genuinely loves fish, has been known to send his Rolls-Royce down to the docks for two fillets of hake and a bobsworth of chips.

Commenting on the present "fish" war, the Sunday Times recently observed:

"This is not, as the Irishman said, a private fight. But the policeman is looking the other way, and a good thing, too. If the price of fish comes down in the shops, good luck to it."

Good Evening ...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

MORE THAN SURVIVAL—The time is at hand, as inevitably it had to come, when men of many nations must begin the consideration of pooling nuclear resources for the development of peacetime use—as opposed to the secrecy surrounding atomic energy for destructive purposes.

Within a matter of months, certainly within years, scientists and statesmen and military leaders will gather to talk of the relationships between atomic power and peace.

The bickerings and jealousies, the spying and treason will come to an end in the face of man's most acute needs—power and peace. Out of the fearful present with its threat of mass annihilation will come an assured future, when men can look to atomic power as a blessing.

Over and beyond the constant struggle for individual and national survival will be the common aim of peaceful prosperity and a renewed dedication to the cause of liberty and freedom for mankind.

ANOTHER STEP—Through long centuries and over thousands of years men have conquered nature—and each other.

Today in those countries looking toward peaceful use of atomic energy the old threats of cold and hunger and fear and disease have been eliminated or minimized.

The isolation that once kept men from knowing and understanding has been defeated by swift forms of travel and communication. Today those peoples are most backward who are most isolated.

Industrialization has brought to many the comforts that once consoled the few. Today industry is dependent upon world trade—and nations rise or fall to the degree their industries are healthy and vigorous.

The atomic age is another step in the long evolution toward a wider freedom, a stronger fight against privation, and liberty extended to men around the world.

A FORM OF LIFE—Except to the fundamentalist, man is a being marching somewhere along the road of evolution.

Man is a form of life that can perish as well as survive, depending upon his ability to adapt to changing conditions.

That he has survived for these many centuries, that he has progressed to a stage of world domination, does not preclude the possibility that he may fail to adapt to the atomic age. And if he should fail he will become extinct as a dinosaur.

The atomic age is demanding that man examine his moral as well as his physical standards in the fight for survival. Man has tamed the wild forces of nature—and now he must tame his own savage nature if he is to hammer his atomic sword into a ploughshare.

For man is at last attaining that point of development when the great moral teachers come into prominence as leaders on the pathway to peace—whether those teachers will be found in today's leaders or those of the past make no difference.

RESPECT FOR LIFE—Perhaps it is sacrilegious to say that all moral teaching is not within one book or one teacher, that man must constantly seek the better way of life, whether that way be contemporary or traditional.

Certainly man cannot depart from the fact that followers of many moral teachers of the past have, for want of a respect for life, created wars, conducted persecutions, and propagated bloodshed as well as faith.

Perhaps man is no more than one small creature in a world designed for evolution. It may well be that he, as his own worst enemy, will extinguish himself and leave the world space to some more enlightened and perfect creature.

The search for survival has at last come to one of the great questions in man's history: Does he value his own mind and heart and body above victory over another group of men?

And if, in seeking the right solution to that question, man turns to world brotherhood in which he shares for the good of all the resource of nuclear power, a long step will have been taken toward his own survival.

Should the decision turn from moral values and the hope of world peace, there will be achieved only the inevitability of destruction on a scale so massive and so horrible that civilization and man may never recover from the shock.

Yet man, whose mind conceived the atomic bomb, may have the inborn talent to convert it to peace. We hope so.

Freedom Balloons To Fill Skies Feb. 12 In Crusade Of F.O.E.

By WARD CANNEL

NEW YORK —(NEA)—For flying-saucer-watchers, star-gazers and others prone to heavenly observation, Feb. 12 ought to be a red-letter day.

According to the Crusade For Freedom, more than 4000 balloons will be released on Abraham Lincoln's birthday from about 500 communities in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Canada. The reason: these are models of the Freedom Balloons that have been turned loose in the strong west wind to carry messages of hope to prisoners behind the Iron Curtain.

In the United States, the project belongs to the Fraternal Order of Eagles and will open Crusade For Freedom Week. Each balloon launched will carry freedom messages, an envelope and letters from top F. O. E. officers.

The messages will ask the finders to help the Crusade forward in encouraging the "Soviet-oppressed peoples behind the Iron Curtain."

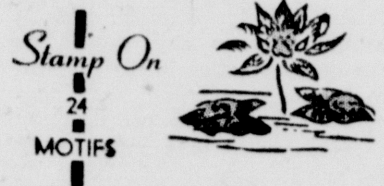

In Europe, the balloons have been launched by the Crusade and aimed primarily at Central Slovakia. The spheres are of two kinds: those that drift until they descend and others that explode and scatter their messages broadcast.

"Know this," the message says in part, "Power lies with the people and the people stand oppressed. With unity and courage, organize your strength."

Balloon messages have met with strong opposition by the Red governments. MIG-15 Russian-built jets have attacked the helium-filled sacs. Their record: two downed, others missing.

But prisoners back from the tyranny of Eastern Europe report the messages have come through, along with the voices of Radio Free Europe which works with Crusade For Freedom.

In addition, Red propagandists have given official status to the freedom balloons and radio broadcasts by arguing with each point by point. They have no longer been able to jam the radio transmitters, which now total 22.

Back in the United States, the F. O. E. and the Crusade are working together on the balloon project to bring more dramatically to the American people the fact that they have a part to play in the cold war.

Other organizations, too, are helping to bring the Crusade's treasury up to the brim. Junior Chambers of Commerce, for example, are holding contests and

Chemical Tests For Drunkenness Legal In Courts

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Frank G. Millard has held that chemical tests to determine drunkenness are admissible in evidence under certain conditions.

The opinion went counter to a 1942 attorney general's opinion and to a 1949 decision of the State Supreme Court. Both had held there was no sufficient agreement among scientists on the reliability of drunkometer tests.

In an opinion requested by State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, Millard held that since 1949 "such tests have now become recognized as reliable by scientists in that field of medicine and chemistry."

To be admissible in court, Millard said:

1 — The apparatus must have been of a standard make and in reliable condition when used.

3 — The test used must have been generally recognized and accepted as reliable by scientists.

3 — The tests must have been competently conducted by a trained technician.

4 — The accused must have consented to the tests and they must have been made immediately after the arrest.

Sav-Mor Market Will Have Grand Opening Thursday

Shown above are two views of the newly-remodeled Sav-Mor IGA Super Market, one taken from the front and one from the rear of the store.

Remodelled Store One Of Peninsula's Finest

A notable addition to Escanaba's position as a retail shopping center makes its bow tomorrow.

While not a new store, the Sav-Mor IGA Super Market, conducted by Casimir Milkiewicz at 306 Stephenson Ave., issues its grand opening invitation to the public as a brand new establishment.

The transformation, from its recent status to its present, made without any letup in business activity, has been in progress for many weeks. Every detail, from the new special type windows and lighting fixtures to its modern scales are the latest word in super market usage.

A Beautiful Store

It's a beautiful store — both from an exterior and interior viewpoint. Blocks away, as one turns on to Stephenson Avenue, the wayfarer's attention is centered on a new modernistic sign informing him that there is a Sav-Mor IGA Store in the neighborhood. As he comes abreast of the beautiful store front he is impressed with the fact that here is something special.

The windows of the store, by the way, are of the Thermopane type, so constructed that the airspace between the two sturdy plate glass panes in each section, prevents any fog or frost from gathering on them.

A new canopied double door entrance is placed conveniently at the extreme right.

New Lighting

The changes in the interior of the store are apparent to everyone familiar with the store but much more than readily meets the eye makes up some of the most important improvements.

A pleasant light — bright, but void of any glare — floods the room. The lights are of a fluorescent type, specially designed for stores of this kind.

Visitors will immediately note that the floor is pleasant to walk upon. This is because the entire walking space in the store has been paved with Flex-o-Tile, a fireproof floor material that is guaranteed to be slip-proof—even when wet.

There is a pleasant quietness about the store—in sharp contrast to the clatter and click usually characteristic of busy places. This is because of the sound deadening effects of the acoustic tile ceiling.

The store is comfortably heated. A new type of heating system keeps the room at a constant temperature, with air conditioning functioning when the weather is unseasonably warm and the heating unit going to work the moment the temperature drops beyond a certain point.

New Shelving

Visitors will note the long rows of shelving and the well spaced aisles. There are 1,422 feet of varnished birch plywood shelves with polished aluminum trim. The arrangement of these shelves was planned by engineers specializing in this type of work. This phase of store arrangement is regarded as one of the most important matters in efficient merchandising, having to do with serving customers with a minimum of crowding and confusion on busy days.

Refrigerator cases, the very best obtainable, are located about the store for the vending of frozen foods, ice cream, dairy products and similar merchandise.

The produce department has been modernized for the convenience of the shopper and the buyer is assured at all times that the green goods sold is as near garden fresh as possible.

New Meat Department

Perhaps as notable as any change in the store is the entirely revamped meat department. The trend here is toward self-service as much as possible. Choice cuts of cellophane-wrapped meat, price marked along with notation of weight, are on display. The customer may choose according to his or her wishes and needs with a minimum of delay. Competent meat cutters are on hand to cater to any particular need, but 22 feet of counter space is devoted to self-service while the meat cutter's section occupies but 10 feet.

One of the features which the visitor is not likely to see, but which is a matter of particular pride to the management is the store's new basement. Heretofore lack of space was something of a nightmare to the owner. There was no basement and the comparatively small rooms at the rear of the store were bulging and in a chronic state of confusion. The new basement is large and deep, occupying about half the amount of floor space as that of the store proper. A motorized conveyor leading from the store's rear door to far down within the basement eliminates much of the tedious task of unloading and storing. At present, the storage space, clear to the 12-foot ceiling, is crowding capacity.

An IGA Store

Casimir Milkiewicz, the proprietor, also stresses what he deems should not be overlooked, that this is an IGA store. He says: "The sign over our store, indicating that it is an IGA store is an important one. IGA today stands as a living monument to the proposition that through co-operation the independent retailer can provide his customers with higher quality goods at lower prices."

He also calls attention to the fact that the status of his establishment as a neighborhood store is important. The store's hours, for the convenience of the public, are from 9 a. m., to 10 p. m., daily and Sunday.

Has Praise For Life Of Hermit

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (AP) — After 30 years of camping out along the Cape Fear river here, James Williams 78, a hermit, is convinced it's the best kind of life.

Williams' only home is a well-patched lean-to. For a short time about five years ago he lived in a home given to him, but "There just wasn't enough air in there for me," he drawled.

Occasionally he goes to town for staple groceries which he stores in a hollow tree.

The IGA Story

What is IGA?

We'll endeavor to tell you . . . .

Did you notice that sign—"IGA"—on the front of the IGA Store in your town? There's a great story behind that sign—a live, warm human interest story. It's the story of men with the courage and vision to develop an idea; it's a saga of democracy at its best. It's the story of the preservation of individual opportunity and free enterprise in this great land of ours—assurance that your children and grandchildren will have all of the great opportunities accorded to those who went before them.

IGA today stands as a living monument to the proposition that through co-operation with his fellow man the individual can prosper, raise his family in dignity and comfort, and take his place as a leader in the community. IGA unites major units of food distribution—the independent retailer, the independent wholesaler, the manufacturer and the farmer. They work closely together in a well-knit, smoothly running organization with just one purpose in mind—to bring you better foods at lower prices. Your IGA grocer brings you better foods at lower prices. Your IGA grocer brings you lower prices because—he and his IGA wholesale supply depot operate with greater efficiency, at a lower cost of doing business.

So get better acquainted with your IGA grocer in your town. He's a home town merchant, a mighty fine fellow and a good friend to have.

Another Ness Glass Front!

A merchant is always right in choosing thermopane for a store front like this. People like to shop where they can SEE! We specialize in designing and installing store fronts . . . feel free to call us for details.

Thermopane is an insulating unit made of two or more panes, separated by air and sealed around the edges with a metal-to-glass bond.

Our Congratulations

to Casimir Milkiewicz on his progressive spirit. His beautiful new Sav-Mor Market is a definite asset to the Escanaba area.

"Now There's A Real Ceiling!"

True . . . there's been a lot of comment about the new ceiling in the Sav - Mor Super Market. And here's why. It's made of that wonderful CELOTEX ACOUSTICAL TILE. Its sound-deadening qualities tend to muffle the din of a busy store. Yet it is attractive and easy to apply. For details about this modern ceiling material, give us a call.

We're happy to have had the opportunity of furnishing CELOTEX ACOUSTICAL TILE to Mr. Milkiewicz, and extend to him our best wishes for the future.

Cash Milkiewicz Long Had Supermarket Idea

Casimir Milkiewicz

It isn't often, in these days of high-gear competition, that a proprietor of an independent grocery store will volunteer the statement, "I like chain stores."

There are exceptions, however, and one of these is Casimir Milkiewicz, whose splendidly organized Sav-Mor IGA Super Market, at 306 Stephenson avenue, will launch its official grand opening Thursday morning. He readily admits to such a view and adds, "They bring business to town—business from which a fellow can get his share if he takes the trouble to go after it. . . and besides they give a fellow a goal to work for and make him keep up with the best and very latest in merchandising methods."

His resplendent new store is ample proof that he is entirely sincere in what he says. It is as completely stocked, efficiently arranged, well lighted and amply staffed as the most up-to-the minute of present day food marts, independent or otherwise, and in the second largest wholesale market for grocery stores in America, has helped him obtain ample quantities of high quality merchandise at an advantageous figure.

Takes Over Mother's Store

Then, with a canny grin, he adds, "I've been lucky in having a lot of good steady customers and I always do my level best to hang on to them and get as many more as I possibly can."

It wasn't very long before the opportunity came to acquire the store property next door. The intervening walls were knocked down, windows were merged, and in and out entrances set at advantageous positions. The old fashioned counters were discarded and self-service, with a checker at the doorway, was introduced.

"And boy, did the people like it," said Cash. A store of that kind was new in that part of the city and the customers took to it in a big way. He says, "They like stores where the customers can browse around to their heart's content among the cans, packages and cartons—where they can compare this article with that one, compare them in price and quality, make discoveries of new types of soaps, cake mixes and fancy groceries. . . ."

Business picked up so fast, he says, that for a while he had all he could do to keep up with it. More clerks were added to the staff, more stocks were added to prevent any shortage of merchandise at times when it would be needed most and before long he became aware of the fact that he was now more crowded than he had been when he was in the little store.

"I knew we would have to enlarge again," he said, "but how?" He is answering that question with his new and greatly enlarged store. The improvement is such that there is no comparison between it and the old store. More than $35,000 is involved in the investment and the fact that the store's capacity—including storage space—has been more than doubled, doesn't begin to tell the whole story. The very latest and best that store engineering, merchandise arrangement and efficient service can provide has been added into this mart.

Believes in Advertising

"Successful methods in conducting a grocery business is something you can't exactly put your finger on," says the young merchant. "You hear it said, 'The customer is always right,' but there is a lot more to public relations than that. You hear it said that 'small profits and quick turnover' is the foundation of good business, but that is an ideal that is harder to put into practice than most people think. . . . I believe, however, that the customer is worthy of first consideration."

"Another thing," he added, "I believe in advertising. Cutting down on it to save a few dollars is poor economy. But I believe that the merchant's best advertisement is his store. If his store doesn't live up to its advertising, that advertising is so much wasted money."

Concerning his plans for the future, Cash says he has lots of them. New problems are already arising and will have to be met from time to time. But he is not worrying about them. He feels happy in the thought that he is better able to serve his friends and that his boyhood dreams are being justified.

Still a Young Man

And Casimir Milkiewicz, to all appearances, will have lots of time to enlarge on his plans and increase the scope of his business.

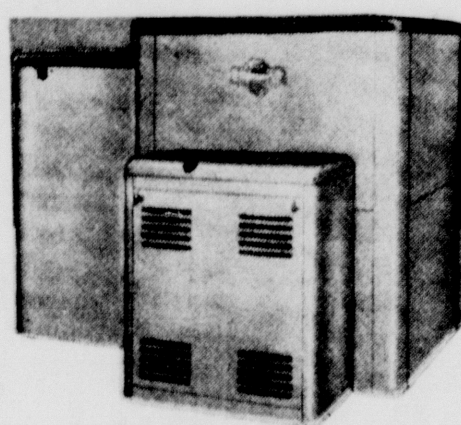

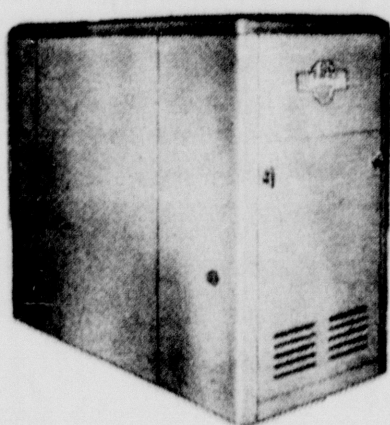

He is still a young man. On last Dec. 27, he observed his 39th birthday anniversary. Married to the former Bernadette Villeneuve, they are the parents of four boys—Sidney, Richard, David and Terry. They live in the newly remodeled apartments over the store.

To the semi-stranger called upon to pass snap judgment, the biggest factor in this young man's success would seem to be his quiet and unassuming interest in everyone he meets. He has a personality that makes friends.

Outlook For Soo Bridge Hopeful

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (P)—Paul Hoholik, Soo building supplies salesman who heads a group investigating the feasibility of building a passageway between the Canadian and American Soo, says he is "very optimistic" that the passageway will be built.

Hoholik said in New York Monday he has hopes that a passage (bridge or tunnel) will be completed by the time the state completes its proposed bridge across the Straits of Mackinac in 1955. The project is still in the preliminary planning stage.

Hoholik is chairman of the newly-formed International St. Mary's (River) Bridge (or tunnel) Authority. Carl Modine, Soo city commissioner and Robert C. Kline, a Soo attorney, complete the authority.

All three are members of the Michigan Bridge Authority and will work with a similar Canadian group on the passageway.

Hoholik was in New York to help complete the signing of bonds for the Straits bridge.

Court Stenographers Salaries Set For Two Peninsula Circuits

LANSING (P)—The House Monday night passed a bill setting salaries for the court stenographers in the two new judicial circuits created in the Upper Peninsula.

Effective Jan. 1, 1955, the bill would set the salary of the 25th District stenographer at $5,000 a year. The 41st Circuit stenographer would get $4,500. The 25th District will consist of Delta and Marquette counties and the 41st of Menominee, Dickinson and Iron counties when the split is effective.

The new circuits were created by the 1953 Legislature.

Malaria Resists New Type Drug

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (P)—Malaria control experts are worried about the increasing resistance of malaria germs to the new drug, paludrine.

In its report, the Malaria Advisory Board said resistance was first detected about the end of 1948 when a large number of cases failed to respond to treatment. By 1950 many more cases failed to respond and by 1952 resistance was reported all over Malaya.

Miss LaCost And Russell Jackson Wed At Garden

GARDEN—St. John's Church, Garden, was the setting of an attractive winter wedding Saturday, Jan. 30, when Miss Jacqueline LaCost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack LaCost of Garden, was united in marriage with Russell Jackson, son of Joseph Jackson Sr. of Manistique. The 9 a. m. double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ronald Bassett, pastor of St. John's, before an altar decorated with gladioli and white tapers.

The Mass of St. Anthony of Padua was sung by members of the choir. During the offertory, Wendell's "Ave Maria" was sung by Mrs. Walter Bassett and Mrs. Victor Borge. They also sang "Mother At Your Feet We're Kneeling" as the bride placed a bouquet of white carnations at the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

White Lace and Tulle

The bride wore a ballerina length gown fashioned with a lace bodice, long tapering sleeves and a pointed collar. The skirt was of nylon tulle over taffeta with an overskirt fashioned in an apron effect with wide Chantilly lace edging. Her shoulder length veil was caught to a cap of starched lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and pink roses. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Ruth Jackson, a sister of the bridegroom, served as the maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length strapless gown of yellow net over taffeta with a lace bolero. Her open crown picture hat was of starched yellow lace and taffeta ribbon. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Best man for Mr. Jackson was Richard Kautchen, a cousin of the bride.

Women's Activities

Housewife Has Role To Play

To fill her role in the community successfully, a housewife must take care with her grooming at all times. She must represent her family to business callers, to shopkeepers, school teachers and clergy. This housewife has stopped to chat with a neighbor (left) who is admiring her infant. Like the career woman, the housewife needs only to schedule a few minutes before breakfast and again in mid-afternoon to maintain her appearance.

If she gives her hair a thorough brushing daily (center), she will find that it will stay in place without constant combing. The housewife who makes a habit of careful grooming need never worry about unexpected encounters. Leaving the supermarket, this housewife meets a business associate of her husband (right). She won't have to apologize to her husband later on for making a bad impression.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

One of the biggest mistakes a housewife can make is to think that she has no reason to be concerned with her appearance during the day.

The people she is likely to encounter—the grocer, the clergyman, the brush man, the club representatives, her youngsters' teachers, the Community Chest representative—are a cross section of the community. The opinions they form will influence the role she will play in it.

The woman who takes pains with her grooming for special social events, but ordinarily is neglectful of her appearance, may wonder why she is overlooked when community leaders organize projects.

The explanation is that most people tend to believe that the person who can keep herself well-groomed at all times is most capable of helping to create order in the community, whether in planning a club activity or a political rally.

Children Are Observing

Furthermore, the housewife who has young children has an obligation to set a good example in grooming.

Children are the most observant creatures in the world. A little girl doesn't have to be very old to observe: "If Mommy doesn't have to brush her hair and look pretty, why do I?"

And it doesn't take much time or effort to put one's best face forward in the community. It really requires only the will. This should be quickly mastered if one would consider that the housewife who doesn't groom for her job is putting a low estimate on its importance.

The housewife's morning ritual should be the same as the career woman's. Before the rest of the family appears for breakfast she should take time to don a crisp house dress or brunch coat, to arrange her hair and to put on her lipstick neatly. Once the habit is established, it will require less time to do than it takes to tell.

Dress For the Job

Prerequisite to good grooming is dressing for the job. When heavy work is in order, the best outfit to wear is one that will stand up to the task. A coverall apron that can be quickly shed when the doorbell rings has proved popular with many housewives; it keeps that crisp house dress crisp right through the day.

When she is doing house cleaning, it is wise to protect her hair from dust. A head covering that can be worn loosely so as not to crush the hair flat and that can also be removed easily is the best choice. Whatever work plan the housewife has outlined for the day, she should take time out in the afternoon for a bit of relaxation. Then, after washing her face thoroughly, applying fresh makeup and combing or brushing her hair, she'll approach the remainder of the work with new zest. After all, nothing beats the knowledge that she is looking well for keeping up a woman's interest in whatever she is doing.

Niagara To Get World's Biggest 'Face-Lifting'

The U. S. and Canada have started on the biggest plastic surgery job in history — a $17½-million "face-lifting" of Niagara Falls. As can be seen in pictures below, constant erosion is wearing away the cliffs over which the world-famous waters pour. Some sections have lost 900 feet in 250 years. The roaring Niagara River will be diverted temporarily and workmen will hang at the very brink of the 160-foot drop to wield their tools. Two sections of the lip of the Horseshoe (Canadian) Falls must be laid bare, filled like giant teeth and treated to keep them from further crumbling. In addition, a gated control structure will be erected in the river about a mile above the Falls, extending 1500 feet from the Canadian side. By controlling the flood of water through its tunnels, it is hoped that enough water will flow for scenic purposes, but not enough to cause further erosion. The International Board of Control says the work must be completed by July, 1957.

In 1764, Falls were small compared to what they are today.

Dotted line shows 1764 crest, contrasted with eroded lip of 1934.

This shows the American Falls after a 1946 rock fall, 120 feet wide at top, tapering to 30 feet. Last great fall previous to this one was in 1931.

Farmer Keeps Busy On Rolling Stones

PRATTVILLE (P) — Rolling stones gather no moss when they land in the collection of a retired Prattville farmer.

Alvin Letts, 71, has built a single emerald green piece of mineral into an accumulation of stones numbering in the thousands.

From his collection the stones may be turned into jewelry—Letts makes it himself—or go in trade for other stones from fellow collectors absorbed in a hobby that spans the world.

Letts has sapphires from Canada, amethysts from Brazil, bloodstones from India and olive stones from an island near Egypt.

Three years ago farmer Letts didn't know a scapolite from a bloodstone. But he happened to pick up a strange emerald-colored stone in his driveway.

Its unusual hue led him to read up on stones and their origin. The next step was his own collection.

Widowed since 1945, Letts found himself spending more and more time with his stones. He learned to make costume jewelry from the more colorful pieces for his daughters and granddaughters. The father of five, he has 13 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Now he has a saw, grinding wheels and polishing wheels in the living room "machine shop" of his Jackson County home.

Escaper Sentenced

BATTLE CREEK (P)—William F. Thompson, 19, of Battle Creek was sentenced Monday to 7½ to 15 years for burglary and for an attempted escape from jail on the eve of his sentencing. Circuit Judge Blaine W. Hatch included 1½ years in the sentence for Thompson's attempt to break out Sunday night when a guard brought his dinner.

Guard Lobbying Ban Will Stay

Lansing (P) — Gov. Williams has rejected Sen. Perry W. Green's "R-Grand Rapids" demand that he cancel an order forbidding Michigan National Guard personnel to lobby in the Legislature.

The governor said Greene's Senate resolution criticizing the governor's action is "not only a misrepresentation of my intent but an unwarranted interference with the governor's duties and responsibilities as commander-in-chief of the state's military forces."

Williams denied that he was attempting to censor the opinions of military personnel. He said his order only required officers and men to stay away from legislators unless invited by the lawmakers to appear.

Two members of the Legislature complained to him last year, Williams said, about the lobbying activities of a National Guard officer, reportedly fighting a "Little Hoover Commission" bill to reorganize the military establishment.

The same bill is before the present Legislature.

Family Gets New $700 Set They Didn't Order

MINNEAPOLIS (P)—The Merton P. Colloms of suburban Crystal Tuesday were the owners of a new $700 radio-television-phonograph combination, apparently because of a mistaken installation.

Mrs. Collom went out Monday leaving a door unlocked so her daughter could get in after school. When she returned, she found then family's 20-inch, table model set had been replaced by the much more expensive instrument.

"We didn't order it but we plan to hang onto it," said Collom. "If anyone shows up to claim it, we'll charge him with breaking and entering."

Miss Archey, John Reque Exchange Vows

Miss Esther Eileen Archey, daughter of Mrs. Jess Archey, 517 Alger Ave., and the late Jess Archey, became the bride of John Reque, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thor Reque, Oak St., at a 7 o'clock ceremony Saturday evening in Zion Lutheran church.

The Rev. Wilbert Johnson of Rapid River officiated at the candlelight vice. Mrs. Harry Ahlstrom was organist and music for the service included a Bach chorale, "Oh Promise Me," Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus by Wagner and Mendelssohn's Wedding March. Loren LeBrasseur, soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love."

Miss Archey was attended by a sister, Mrs. Donald Carlson, who was matron of honor, and Mrs. Denton Nelson, also a sister, who was her bridesmaid.

Wore Gold Necklace

The bridegroom's brother, Paul Reque, was best man, and Peter Reque, Denton Nelson and Donald Carlson ushered guests.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Merrill Archey, was attired in a gown of white chantilly lace and nylon tulle over shimmering satin, designed with lace bodice, long tapering sleeves and pleated nylon skirt. She wore a shoulder-length veil which was caught to a cap of satin and lace, and carried a bouquet of white mums centered with red roses.

Her jewelry consisted of a gold necklace with rhinestones and a matching bracelet, gifts of the bridegroom.

Reception For 100

Her attendants wore identical gowns of net edged with chantilly lace over taffeta with lace jackets and white flower headbands. The matron of honor wore a rose-colored ensemble and the bridesmaid, blue. Their bouquets were of white and yellow mums.

Mrs. Archey selected a navy blue tissue crepe dress with white accessories for her daughter's marriage, and Mrs. Reque chose a beige, faille coat-style dress. The bride's mother wore a corsage of white mums and the bridegroom's mother had a corsage of bronze and gold mums.

Baskets of mixed flowers formed the setting for the church ceremony, and blue and white streamers centered with wedding bells were used in decorating the home of the bride, where a reception was held for 100 guests from 8 to 10 o'clock. The table was centered with a wedding cake, white candles and white flowers.

The Guests

Mrs. Clarence Irie, a sister of the bride, and Miss Dagmar Thompson, an aunt, poured. The bride's sister, Miss Lucille Archey, cut the wedding cake, and Mrs. Lou Popour, a sister, and Mrs. Merrill Archey served.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Manistique High School, Class of 1951. The new Mrs. Archey is employed at the First National Bank and her husband is in the Air Corps and will go overseas shortly.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Raridon of Wau-

Attard Is Freed On Bonds Here

John C. Attard of Dearborn, who was brought here by Manistique State police last weekend on a charge of breaking and entering in the night time, was released under bond Tuesday afternoon from Schoolcraft County jail.

He furnished bonds of $4,000 for the Schoolcraft County charges against him and $1,000 for a Delta County charge of larceny filed against him. He was arraigned Monday in Justice Court and Feb. 8 was set for examination.

Attard and Lawrence Suban of Lincoln Park, Mich., are believed implicated in the larceny of guns last hunting season from cabins in Hiawatha and Thompson townships in Schoolcraft county and Tylen's resort, in Delta County. Suban admitted to Detroit authorities that he stole $1500 worth of guns and implicated Attard.

Date for examination of Attard has been postponed until Feb. 15, to permit summoning of witnesses.

Attard's bond here was reduced from $5,000 to $4,000 on recommendation of the prosecuting attorney. The Dearborn man is represented by a Manistique attorney.

Three of the guns stolen here last fall have been recovered by State Police since the arrest of Suban and Attard.

Kalamazoo Paper Mill To Construct Airtight Building

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Allied Paper Mills, Inc., has announced plans for construction of an airtight building. It will be one of the country's only two plants making base stock photographic paper. The Eastman Kodak Co. operates the other.

Production is to begin sometime this year.

Many striking features make the new plant entirely different from other industrial structures. The three-story building will be constructed entirely of glass blocks joined by a special mortar to keep the walls airtight.

Air from the outside must be filtered to exclude all foreign impurities, including cigarette smoke and radioactive atomic dust. Even the slightest trace of radio activity would ruin the paper for photographic purposes. Geiger counters are employed now to guard against radioactivity.

Cleanliness is another prime requisite for the manufacture of the paper. That is the reason the industry was located here.

Only the Lee Paper Co. at neighboring Vicksburg possesses water of sufficient purity to insure success in the first stages of the production process. Allied Mills will take raw stocks provided by the Lee company and complete the manufacturing steps first taken there.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Damage to the car was moderate and to the truck slight.

Fire Damages Spawr Dwelling

Fire believed started by electrical wiring caused considerable damage Tuesday night to the roof and kitchen of the Charles Spawr residence on Range St.

City firemen were called at 3:49 p. m., and worked nearly an hour to extinguish the blaze, which started in the kitchen. Flames were shooting through the roof when firemen arrived.

Volunteers were called and 14 responded. Large 2½-inch hoses were laid from the LaFrance truck to bring the blaze under control.

The building is owned by Russell Watson.

Before a cricket fight in China, the contestants are weighed in by their handlers and classified as heavy, middle or lightweights.

Hawks Shoot For Win Over Calumet Tonight

Northern Michigan League hockey returns to the fairgrounds rink tonight at 7:45 when the Escanaba Hawks cross sticks with the Calumet Radars.

The two teams have engaged in some tight contests in recent weeks, with the Hawks getting the best of the arguments. They tied 5-5 at Calumet in their last meeting and Escanaba won 7-6 in the previous clash here.

Escanaba will be at peak physical condition tonight with all regulars slated for action and Ben Artwisch in the goal. Buddy Provo, who has been hampered with a hip injury, is fully recovered and will see full-time duty on a forward post.

The Hawks are fighting to get out of the NMHL cellar and Calumet is the team to beat to accomplish it. The Radars hold down third place in the standings.

Weill's Health Key To Marciano Action

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Al Weill's health will determine whether heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano has one or two title fights by summer.

If Weill, convalescing from a delicate operation, feels that he can get to work soon, Marciano will sign for a March 19 or 26 title defense against lanky Dan Baccaroni of Philadelphia. Otherwise the Brockton Blaster will wait until June for Ezzard Charles.

International Boxing Club officials met with Weill Tuesday night and scheduled further conferences this afternoon.

Weill won't permit Rocky to fight unless he is around to supervise the champ's training and to work in Marciano's corner on fight night.

Rapid River's 68-50 Win Over Cooks Wipes Out Challenger's Bid

RAPID RIVER — Any doubts that Rapid River's Rockets are the top team in the Upper Peninsula Central League were virtually wiped out here last night as Coach Keith Hinde's quint whipped Cooks 68-50.

Cooks entered the game in a challenging position behind the Rockets but suffered their second setback to the league leaders.

Star center Waldon Johnson was wicked under the buckets last night and fed 30 points through the nets to raise his season total to 342 points in 13 games, 12 of which were won by Rapid.

An over-flow crowd saw Cooks take a 7-5 lead early in the first period. But Rapid River tied it at 9-9 and never faltered after that.

The Rockets had a 15-13 edge at the end of the first and a 31-24 margin at the half. After hitting 20 points in the third period the Rockets were leading by a 64-40 margin in the fourth when reserves began seeing action.

Two players from each team fouled out of the game. Hank Peterson left late in the third and John Jacques midway in the fourth for Cooks. Rapid lost Rog-

Lawrence Tech Gains Revenge

By The Associated Press

Ohio college basketball teams figured in Michigan vengeance and defeat Tuesday night.

Lawrence Tech avenged a defeat by Findlay College last week. Tech won by 88-71.

The Blue Devils stormed into an early lead to dominate the team that knocked them from the list of the nation's undefeated basketball teams for their first defeat in 8 starts.

Big Bevo Francis poured in 113 points to lead Rio Grande to a 134-91 walloping of Hillsdale.

Hillsdale put three men on Francis but the fabulous sophomore still managed to break his own record for individual scoring among small colleges.

It was the second time the Ohio team had trimmed Hillsdale this year. Rio Grande downed the Michigan team 82-45 Dec. 11. But that time Bevo was held to a slim—four—points. He has been averaging nearly 49 points a game this season.

Western Michigan hit on four free throws in the final two minutes to down a persistent Washington University (St. Louis) quintet 55-53. Western Michigan led 29-20 at the half.

Other Michigan results were Marquette 74 Detroit 68; Calvin 60 Olivet 44; and Wayne 59 Santa Barbara (Calif) 51.

Huge Crowd Sees Tigers Defeat Redskins, 50-44

POWERS—The largest crowd in recent years was on hand here last night to see Coach Irv Soderlund's Powers Tigers defeat the Hermansville Redskins 50-44 in a nip-and-tuck Little Seven Conference game.

After trailing 13-12 at the end of the first round, Powers took the lead in the second period and never surrendered it, although the score was tied several times before the half ended.

Center John Hafeman scored 13 points, high for the night, while three of his mates clicked for 11. Farley was high for Hermansville with 12.

Willie Troy To Fight Tonight

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's Moses Ward meets hard-hitting Willie Troy in an Olympia Stadium 10-rounder tonight, his first appearance before the national television audience (9 p.m., CST).

For months Ward's manager, Pete Marudas, has been screaming that the top middleweights were avoiding his 21-year-old Negro fighter with a 17-2 record.

Troy, his opponent, is the seventh ranking middleweight contender and his sock has accounted for 25 victories in 26 starts — 19 of them by knockouts. Hailing from Washington, D.C., he's also a 21-year-old Negro.

Troy has been floored only once, boy Holly Mims, who handed him his only setback. Since then, the 6-foot-1 Troy has knocked out six straight opponents — including Lee Sala, Randy Sandy and Tuzo Portuquez.

At 5-feet-7, Ward will be giving away six inches in height. Ward hits with both hands, is durable and claims he has never been decked.

NEW ON SCHEDULE

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Stanford and Pittsburgh are newcomers to the nine-game 1954 Navy football schedule announced today by director of athletics Capt. I. C. Eddy.

Bevo Francis Smashes Mark With 113 Points

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—Bevo Francis of little Rio Grande College smashed the small-college basketball scoring record for a single game Monday night with an incredible 113 points.

Bevo also held the old mark of 84 points.
He collected 38 field goals and 37 foul shots Monday night while leading his Rio Grande quintet to a 134-91 victory over Hillsdale for its 16th triumph in 20 games.

Averaging 52.1
In 20 games, Bevo has scored 1,042 points, an average of 52.1 per game. That is exactly on a par with last season, when he scored 1,954 points in 39 games.

But all his records last year were tossed out by the NCAA—including a single-game scoring feat of 116 points—because the opposition included too many two-year colleges. This year, Coach Newt Oliver lined up 25 opponents, including 24 four-year colleges. Kentucky cemented its position as the top team in the country by rolling over po' Georgia Tech 99-48 for its 14th triumph without a setback. The Engineers have not won a game. This was defeat No. 14. Sixth-ranking Seattle, which lost its first game on the season, now has the longest winning streak. The Chieftains won their 21st straight by downing Pacific Lutheran 82-64. Western Kentucky, which was idle, shows 20 straight victories without a defeat.

La Salle, No. 9 in the weekly Associated Press poll, had its troubles for a half but finished up with a 78-51 decision over Dickinson.

Stops Tom Gola
Joe Katchik, playing his first game for Dickinson, held All-America Tom Gola to 15 points, seven under his average for the year.

Holy Cross, 10th in the nation, edged Boston College 82-77 on the wings of a 26-points rally in the fourth period.

Colorado scored an upset by thrashing Kansas 70-62. The defeat was the first of the season in the Big Seven race for the Jayhawks.

In other major action, Pitt upset Georgetown 80-73; Loyola of New Orleans surprised Dayton 78-68, and Western Michigan shaded Washington of St. Louis 55-53.

Georgetown Quint Is Hit By Low Grades

WASHINGTON (AP)—Poor grades have taken a heavy toll of Georgetown's basketball and track squads. Seven athletes have been declared ineligible because of scholastic deficiencies.

Just how much of a blow this will be to the Hoyas athletic endeavors was pointed up Tuesday night when Georgetown lost to a below par Pitt team, 80-73. The Hoyas high scorer, Bill Cowley, was among the four squad members who could not play because of scholastic troubles.

Who Says Ball Players Lay Around All Winter?

By JIM SMALLEGAN
DETROIT (AP)—It has been said that baseball players lay around and get lazy all winter.

Detroit Tiger pitcher Ted Gray begs to differ: "Well—we might be lazy but we don't dare lay around—all winter."

Gray's statement did not come easy. He was puffing and steaming like the whistle on a peanut vendor's wagon in one of Detroit's YMCA branches.

Beside him was Billy Pierce, who has been keeping the front office of the Chicago White Sox smiling with his pitching feats; Ivan Delock, who hurls for the Boston Red Sox; and Joe Ginsberg of the Cleveland Indians, who was sporting a flashy new catcher's mitt.

Try It Once
Most of the foursome have been battling the evils of plush winter living since Jan. 1.

"If you think this is a snap, climb into a sweat suit and work off a little fat with us," said Gray. "Come on, admit it," snapped Delock. "It's better than working." "We've been doing this for about a month every year since 1947," said Pierce, "and I'll have to admit work will never replace paddle ball."

Gray and Delock, the heaviest of the four at 178, hope to drop to

Young High Jumper Aims For Seven Feet

NEW YORK (AP)—Herman Wyatt, a skinny, 22-year-old undergraduate at San Jose State College, said today he hopes to jump seven feet within the next three weeks at one of the Madison Square Garden meets. He'll make his first try at the Millrose Games Saturday.

Herman has been high jumping only four years and last week set a Boston A.A. Games record of 6 feet 9 inches.

He always jumps without his left shoe — "Gives me a lighter feeling," he explains. He has done 6-9 3/4 outdoors.

Lt. Ken Wiesner of the Navy holds the world indoor record of 6-10 3/4 and Walt Davis, who now is playing professional baseball, has the outdoor mark of 6-11 1/4.

Tigers Sign Boone With Pay Increase

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers had 20 players in the fold today with the pay raise signing of third baseman Ray Boone, the team's wheel horse last year, and a pair of pitchers. Boone reportedly will take home $25,000 for the 1954 season.

Boone last year drove in over 100 runs and blasted four home runs with the bases filled.

Also signed were two pitching newcomers, Dick Donovan and Frank Lary.

What's A Baseball Game Without Beer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—What's a ball game without beer? St. Louis Cardinals fans might find out this season unless the board of aldermen votes special permission for sale of the beverage at Busch Stadium.

The city discovered Tuesday beer sales at the ball park, the outdoor municipal opera and the arena have been illegal since 1933.

An associate city counselor ruled the city's liquor ordinance restricts 3.2 beer sales to one-room establishments visible from the street.

Beer sales are important to the Cardinals. They, and the stadium, are owned by the Anheuser-Busch brewery.

Gasoline Smugglers Active In India

KHATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—Nearly half of all motor vehicles in this Himalayan Kingdom's capital have been rendered idle by a gasoline smuggling link with Communist-occupied Tibet, reliable sources here declared.

The sources attributed local gasoline shortages to smugglers' prices exceeding 40 Indian rupees per gallon compared to a black-market high in Khatmandu bazzars of slightly over 7 rupees.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our wife and mother, Mrs. Eugene Esler, who passed away one year ago today, February 3, 1953. Loving and kind in all her ways. Upright and just to the end of her days.

A beautiful memory she left behind. She had a nature you could not help loving.

A heart that was purer than gold. And to those who knew her and loved her.

Her memory will never grow old. Sadly missed by, Eugene Esler and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Esler.

Brennan Was Four-Year Starter At Notre Dame

Editors Note—Who is Terry Brennan, the 25-year-old whose selection as Frank Leahy's Notre Dame coaching successor stunned the college football realm? Following is the first of a three-part series giving the answer.

By JERRY LISKA

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—The new 25-year-old Notre Dame head football coach, Terry Brennan, is well remembered by Notre Dame partisans as a four-year left halfback from 1945 through 1948.

But then Brennan's name dropped from the national prints except for a paragraph now and then on how his Chicago Mount Carmel High School team was beating the daylight out of city rivals.

Brennan's selection as Irish freshman coach last September got less publicity than when Johnny Lujack quit the Chicago Bears a few years ago and became a Notre Dame assistant of now resigned Frank Leahy.

Cards Eyed Him

There were rumors, to be sure, that Brennan was a coach of ability far beyond his years. Two years ago, the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League cast an eye in his direction. Just two weeks ago, Marquette University interviewed Brennan as a possible successor to Lisle Blackburn, now directing the Green Bay Packers.

But to the casual observer, Brennan seemed a boy among men in the coaching profession and the consensus was that he needed to cut a few more teeth as an assistant before he could plunge into big time.

That was reckoning without defiant Irish spirit, poise and confidence that gave this kid from Milwaukee the ability to conquer every obstacle that crossed his path.

Small In School

They told him as a 120-pound freshman at Marquette High School in Milwaukee he was too light to play football. But he played. He won seven athletic letters at the school and captained the football team in his senior year.

His attraction to Notre Dame was natural. His brother, Jimmy, was an Irish halfback in the mid-40s.

As a 17-year-old freshman, Terry Brennan won a halfback berth.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

Andy Hytinen, former Escanaban and close follower of Upper Peninsula boxers in the Milwaukee Golden Gloves tournament each year, dropped us his annual message the other day. . . . He had just seen the opening fights of the Milwaukee tournament. . . . Hytinen speaks very highly of a 126-pound Milwaukee city champion who will be one of the foes in the same class as Harvard Lancour, classy Manistique puncher. . . . He's Richard Bartman, who won the novice featherweight championship last year.

The Golden Gloves tournament here was not without its lighter moments. . . . One hepped-up fan couldn't resist offering a bit of advice to a scrapper who was having his difficulties in the ring. . . . "Step back, count to three and throw an uppercut and you'll knock him out," was his unique verbal solution to the fighter's problem!

The St. Joe Trojans are the second highest scoring high school basketball team in the Upper Peninsula on a per-game-average basis. . . . Coach Tom St. Germain's cagers are hitting 68.1 points per game, topped only by Rapid River's Rockets who are scoring at a 70-point pace.

Fans of the Milwaukee Braves in Escanaba will be glad to learn that radio station WESK will carry the broadcasts of the National League pennant contenders this summer. . . . Arrangements were recently completed to carry the season schedule. . . . As last year, a lot of fans are already making plans to travel to Milwaukee to take in some of the Braves' home games.

Who made the basket? . . . Three scorebooks at the recent St. Joe-Bark River basketball game credited Trojan Jim Greenwood with a field goal in the third period. . . . None of the books showed a field goal for Bill Lancour. . . . Yet the Trojan players agree that Lancour made a field goal in the game and Greenwood didn't. . . . How come?

Man's Lonesome Age Comes When He's 35

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Have a friend who thinks it is more comfortable to be 30 than it is to be 35, and never wants to be 65.

He says that at 35 his biggest worry was how far he would get in the world by the time he was 50, but today his biggest worry is what in the world he will do when he faces retirement 15 years from now. Here is how one man feels life at 50, looking both backward and forward:

"Thirty-five is a man's lonesome age," he said. "He is in competition with a lot of other men for the boss's favor. His children are at the age when they need him most, he needs them most, but has the least time to devote to them."

He still thinks of his wife as a girl, but won't drop his business cares to treat her as the girl she was 15 years before, when he married her.

"At 35 a man worries about money, whether he has enough insurance, keeping up with the Joneses. He has to plan for prom dresses for his girls, and pocket money for the boys when they get ready to spark."

"As the years go along, if he is lucky, he does pretty well both at home and at the office. He gets a raise now and then . . . but never quite the recognition he wanted . . . and the kids at least tolerate the advice he gives them and he hopes is sound."

"But all of a sudden he is 50. The kids are away at school or married, and he realizes that he will now never have the time for comradeship with them he always thought he would work around to . . . if he weren't just so busy."

He and his wife, married for 30 years, are back where they started . . . in some ways . . . but not quite."

Middle Age Is Best

"The job at the office still has to be done, but he knows he has gone just about as far as he's going to go there. If he is properly philosophical, that's one load off his mind."

"He grows closer to his wife, who by now certainly is not the same girl he married."

"But soon they realize that in a few years the boss is going to say, 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant. Here is a gold watch and a small pension. Go and enjoy yourself for the rest of your life.'"

"And the worries begin all over again. You wonder what there will be left to enjoy at 65. The kids will be gone, the job gone, and not enough income to do for your wife all the things you wanted to do when you started the road together."

"I don't want to be 35 again. I never want to be 65. Middle age is the best age."

After the business meeting, games were played and a pot luck lunch was served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Guertin.

Garden Team Defeats
A Garden Junior High School team that towered well above their opponents, used their height to advantage in defeating Rapid River by a 35 to 12 score Wednesday afternoon. Neil McPhee led his Garden teammates to victory by scoring 16 points.

Stork Shower
Mrs. Ralph Thibault was honored at a pink and blue shower held at the Garden Community Building Thursday evening. The Boy Scout troop is making preparations to participate in the Klondike Derby which is to be held Feb. 20 at the Gladstone Ski Club.

IT'S NO SECRET THAT O-JIB-WA BITTERS IS BEST FOR ARTHRITIS

During the past 38 years, nearly two million people right here in Michigan have found relief with O-JIB-WA BITTERS. Typical of O-JIB-WA boosters is Mrs. Myrtle Lamphere, 144 W. Coulter Road, Lapeer, who has this to say:

"I suffered with neuritis and arthritis so badly I felt like bawling, who knew that wouldn't help. For over 10 years the muscles in my back and shoulders caused me such suffering that I worked in misery, and often my son had to rub my back when it hurt real bad. Besides this, I had arthritis in my hands and wrist which was so painful I couldn't lift the tea kettle. Land of living, many times it was so terrible that I wished I could turn myself inside out so I could get to the pains. In the years I suffered, I tried many things, but nothing helped me. I was introduced to O-JIB-WA BITTERS by a friend who gave me some to start on. When trying it, be sure you use it long enough. I took a large bottle before it helped me much and I advise everybody to get a fair trial if they want good results. I am so glad, for I am all better now, and besides I am free of neuritis and arthritis, my stomach, liver and kidneys seem to be in better condition. I know that herb medicines are the best. O-JIB-WA BITTERS gave me such excellent results, that I highly recommend it to all sufferers from neuritis, rheumatism or arthritis."

WASHINGTON BELIEVED IT PAID TO ADVERTISE—News from 1773 is what John Gambiere, of Cleveland, Ohio, is looking at, and this copy of the Maryland Journal and Baltimore Advertiser is an extraordinary "find." The issue, dated July 15, 1773, carries an ad written by George Washington. It stated that he had 20,000 acres of land on the Ohio and Grand Kanawha rivers and that he would listen to any proposal for leasing them "upon moderate terms, allowing a certain number of years rent free." The paper, yellow and brittle, was found along with other old papers in a trash barrel. It has four pages, still very readable, except for the frayed edges.

Sheba Excavations Planned At Mareb By Arab Archeologists

CAIRO (AP)—Arab archeologists plan to resume the diggings at Mareb, the traditional capital of the Queen of Sheba, in the heart of the Arabian kingdom of Yemen. Work at Mareb was started in 1951 by Wendell Phillips, of California, under the auspices of the American Foundation for the Study of Man.

But later Phillips got involved with Imam Ahmed, the Yemenite ruler. He and his party left Mareb in what he described as a dramatic flight, foiling the surveillance of Ahmed's armed guards and taking refuge in the nearby Aden, British protectorate.

Tips From TV Help Boy Lasso His Dog

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Television can be educational. Paul Bickel, 10, lassoed and pulled his dog to safety after it had fallen through the ice of the Kalamazoo River. Paul said he had been practicing roping since he learned how to do it by watching TV cowboys in action.
